Plan W89753AH: Prairie-Style Home in Two Versions

House plans are Copyright © 2009 by our architects and designers.

- This home plan was inspired by the Prairie style of home that popped up at the turn of the century.
- Ten to twelve foot ceilings are found throughout the home, with an arched opening, a butler's pantry and built-in cabinets being just a few of the extra features you'll love.
- The kitchen features an eat-in island and opens to the nook where a see-through fireplace gives you a peek at the spacious great room on the other side.
- The master suite includes a spacious walk-in closet, private bath with whirlpool tub, and an arched opening leading you inside.
- Just off the entry, the second bedroom is in the front of the house with access to the bath off the hallway.
- A three-stall side-load garage completes the home.
